AMERICA was first place today at the Olympic games at the Olympic games. That means serious concentration, intense WILL, POWER, a good sign for the nation.

GREAT HONOR goes to the United States. Finland. Those men that lived up to the cold Northwest, staying indoors all through the winter, taking to their wives and children to the hills, instead of running around in the Southern sun, certainly developed energy.

READ OF STEVENSON, from Finland, forty years old, who had not run a race in fifteen years, beating all his competitors by a full mile in a run of twenty miles. There is stamina. The man had lived regularly, and simply. That's half the story.

SECOND TO THE great Finn, Stevenson, in the 100-meter sprint. He is a real Italian. You realize what staying powers are in that ancient Italian race, remembering that the ancestors of that Italian runner were marching over the Roman stone road, fighting the "savages" of Gaul when there now stands two thousand years ago.

THE REV. DR. PIERCE says President Coolidge believes that Heaven is "the abode of trial and vigorous human beings, of young people as well as old." Does the President also believe in a Heaven in which there is no change, a change to get ahead and do new things? The most recent must admit that eternal stasis, through billions and billions of years, with no change to get ahead in Heaven, would be tiresome, no matter how great the bliss.

HENRY FORD, who once owned the famous Longfellow "Way-side Inn" at Sudbury, had bought two old houses, built about 1650. They will be taken down and rebuilt near the Wayside Inn. It is a picturesque idea, affording harmless amusement for Mr. Ford, who can afford it.

BUT IT IS "tipping back into history," for which Mr. Ford has not much regard. Perhaps after he dies of old age, his house Mr. Ford will show the country how to build good, modern houses for modern people, at really reasonable prices.

MR. FORD'S friend, Edison, suggested the idea of homes poured of concrete. The thing is to be tried on a big scale in England. Ford says, try that, or some better plan, here.

To finance the building of a million or twenty million low-priced houses, with a little garage in each, would be a fine monument and a glorious gift to the people. Ford could do it. He is young enough, mentally, for new ideas.

THAT IS proved. Only a told the world ago was this writer that the flying machine was too early for him to become interested in it. And now it is said that he contemplates building all-metal flying machines in quantity. Production that would be useful, but not more useful than the low priced airplanes.

Civilization continues to pass important milestones. The end of slavery was one. The steam engine was another, the electric dynamo another, telegraph and telephone others. The most remarkable milestone is said to be labeled "around the world in a flying machine."

THE AMERICAN around-the-world machine reached Paris yesterday, all three of them. When they landed on the Boulevard des Capucines the six Americans, stepping from their machines, had flown 19,023 miles. "Is first question asked was, 'do we stand in the Olympic games?'" They didn't feel tired when they landed, their Uncle Sam had carried away the champagne.

MADMAN BATTLES ASYLUM ATTENDANT AS AUTO RUNS WILD

CAR TAKES PLUNGE OF 50 FEET

Rhode Island Hospital Employee Half Strangled by Maniac in Struggle

Providence, July 13.—A wild ride in an uncontrolled automobile with a maniac and an attendant from the State Hospital for Mental Diseases hurtling on the front seat of the car, ended when the machine plunged down a fifty-foot embankment into a ravine.

In the wreckage of the car the men continued their battle until help arrived and the madman was subdued.

The hospital attendant who fought for his life is John Chamberlain, thirty-five years old. The name of the patient has been withheld to the state authorities.

THOU GHT HARMLESS

Chamberlain was summoned from the hospital at Howard, R. I., ten miles from here, to remove the patient from his home in Providence to the hospital. The man was believed to be suffering from only a mild mental disorder and was regarded as harmless. No steps were taken to keep him in restraint.

Chamberlain was driving the car along Riverside avenue near the railroad when he suddenly found the patient on the seat beside him seized the man suddenly became violent.

SEIZED BY THROAT

The madman seized Chamberlain about the throat and endeavored to choke him to death. Chamberlain was unable to check the speed of the machine which was traveling rapidly. To fight the madman he was forced to take the steering wheel and the machine ran wildly over the road. While the men fought the car left the road, plunged across a ditch and down an embankment. The machine turned over.

Chamberlain finally broke the head of the madman on his chest. The madman was then thrown into the ravine.

Both men suffered from cuts and bruises. Their injuries were dressed at the hospital.

PROPAGANDA OF FILIPINOS IS HALTED

Manila, July 12 (A.P.).—Insular Auditor Wright, has made immediate his ruling, first issued March 15, suspending payments from the million peso fund appropriated by the last Legislature for carrying on propaganda of the Filipino people.

The ground on which he acted is that the measure is unconstitutional.

The question of Wright's power to suspend the payments was referred to the Attorney-General of the United States, who, however, upheld the insular official.

Another Wright's ruling says: "The Legislature exceeds the power conferred on it by Congress in the passage of this act, that act is not the act of people through their duly elected representatives but the act of individuals who falsely speak and act in the name of the people."

The suspension of further payments under this act therefore is made final and no further payments will be made under this act.

This act will be passed in a day.

ALLEN WITNESS AT REDMOND HEARING

Weston Allen, former Attorney General of Massachusetts, was a witness for the prosecution at the hearing of George F. Redmond, Jr., of the Suffolk Superior Court today for whipping his horse. He was driving along Atlantic avenue and his application of the whip attracted the attention of Harry Fuller, of the R. I. P. C. A.

Fuller called a halt, but the R. I. P. C. A. did not pay attention. Whipping Fuller placed him before the court.

Judge Murray, in Municipal Court, asked Fullerton why he whipped the horse and was told because the horse was lame.

"How would you like to have your mother whip you?" asked Judge Murray, inquiring the fine.

When the fine first got into difficulty, Allen was present. Now he is the witness.

The former Attorney General was asked whether he had attempted to beat Mr. Allen. Sumner, H. N. Williams in Salem on July 13.

It is the claim of the prosecution that at least three of them beat the defendant on his back, and that he was whipped. They were supposed to be New York correspondents and considerable money was mailed to them in New York.

TRIED TO LOCATE MEN

"We tried to get these people," said Mr. Allen. "Sumner, Williams and I. We tried to get them, but we did not find them there to be served."

James Manning, president of the Redmond committee, who should have been here, was recalled to the stand. He was asked if F. T. Manning & Co. was a Redmond committee. He said it was. Redmond testified he had tried through the Manning company the Redmond firm later acquired F. T. Manning & Co.'s business.

Mr. Manning said that checks for $2,000 or $3,000 a week were mailed to Mr. N. Williams of New York at one point, but that "nothing ever came back."

D. S. Howell, of Springfield, was the next witness. He said that over a period of four years he received $3,000 or $4,000 with the Redmond committee. He said he did not know just which.

The suspension of further payments under this act therefore is made final and no further payments will be made under this act.

GRLS AS WELL AS MEN ARE NEEDED FOR BEACH LIFE GUARDS

RED CROSS MEDAL TO BE WON

Those Who Seek to Qualify May Have Hours Changed to Suit Convenience

In its drive to provide an expert volunteer life-saving corps for the Boston beaches, the Boston American today issues a special appeal to the thousand-odd qualified Red Cross life-savers of the Metropolitan district.

These men and women, boys and girls, are wanted to volunteer to form the nucleus of an efficient organization which will give real protection to the bathers, especially the children.

To other swimmers, the American repeats its offer of expert coaching until they are able to pass the strict Red Cross life-saving test, and qualify for the American's beach patrol.

GRLS ARE WANTED, TOO

Girls as well as men and boys are wanted. Life-saving in the water is not a matter of strength, but of experience, and the thousands of excellent swimmers in Greater Boston are urged to volunteer to do this service to protect the lives of others.

The American's plan already has aroused favorable comment from mothers who like to take their children to the beaches on the bay on hot July days, and from parents whose anxiety will be lessened by knowing that a large and expert patrol will be on duty.

HAROLD E. BARR FIRST

The first man to volunteer his services was Harold E. Barr of No. 478 Summer street, Winthrop, a first swimmer who has saved many persons who were near drowning in Massachusetts waters.

Mr. Barr gladly volunteered his time to the most capable Jack Wallace of the Boston Metropolitan Chapter of the American Red Cross, who is to instruct the Boston American volunteers in the art of saving lives in the water, and give them their final test of experience.

This is the greatest campaign undertaken by a newspaper in many years," was Mr. Barr's comment. "The loss of life in the water is pitiful. The American's life guard patrol plan should be made the first step in a great drive not only to save guard post swimmers, but to teach all how to take care of themselves in the water."

HE IS A "BROWNE"

Barr is a "Browne," as all the year-around swimmers are called, and his favorite swimming beach is now, between business hours, is on the stretch of highland beach between Great Hill, in Winthrop and Point Shirley, which in recent years has become one of the most popular of Greater Boston beaches.

On the Boston beaches alone, from City Point to Tremont Beach, the officials themselves declare that a conservative estimate of the number of persons who drown there on a hot July day is 100,000.

VOLUNTEER FORCE NEEDED

Success has already crowned the efforts of the American to arouse the city to more efficient patrolling of this stretch of beach. A patrol patrol has been put in force, but the number of life guards will never be sufficient to make the water force such as the American is organizing.

The American's article had their

GROUP OF YOUTHFUL LIFE SAVERS

It is to protect children such as these that the Boston American is making its drive to provide an expert life saving corps for all the Boston beaches. Men and women, boys and girls are urged to volunteer for the work.

2 BOATS CONVEY THROG

Ideal Weather Adds to Success of Boston American's Excursion to Nantasket

Even the sun smiled today to see the crowded boats and the contented mothers and the happy children arriving at Nantasket Beach.

There were lines of them on the Boston American sailing for mothers and children, starting away from Rowe's Wharf on time, then reached Nantasket long before noon.

They were happiness specials, those two boats, and they were freighted to the gunwale with eager young humans out for a good time and determined to have it.

CHIEF FOR LANE.
At Rowe's Wharf their children and their mothers were met by Mr. Lane and other representatives of the Nantasket Steamboat Company, who boarded the boats. They were given a hearty cheer when the youngsters learned of their part in the program.

The first boat got away about 1 o'clock, the second following about an hour later.

For many of the boys and girls, it was the first time on the water in a big and well appointed steamboat. The trip down the harbor had for them all the thrill that the initial trip of the Grosvenor had for Fulton. It was a trip of exploration and discovery and adventure, a triumph

BOSTON SPEECH BY COOLIDGE IS URGED

Notification Aug. 14 and Other Utterances by President to Be Broadcast

Washington, July 15.—(U.S.N.R.) Plans for President Coolidge's campaign will be mapped out at conference tonight here tomorrow.

A Republican "board of strategy" headed by the President and William M. Butler, chairman of the National Committee, will be organized.

New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Boston may see the President in the fall because of a large number of urgent invitations already made. Chicago, St. Louis or some similarly situated city may be visited in the central region to facilitate radio broadcasting.

The President's speech of acceptance and all others he will make will be broadcast by radio.

Tentative arrangements for the first speech in person and a second made over the radio, provide that Mr. Coolidge shall not go further West than the Mississippi. Beyond that, General Charles G. Dawes, his running mate, will carry the stand-

WOMAN JAILED FOR YEAR AS 'SCOLD'

Trenton, July 15.—Mrs. Maria Rowan was sentenced to the ducking and a year in jail as a "common scold."

But Mrs. Rowan has just begun a one-year sentence in Mercer County workhouse for the same of.

When Mrs. Rowan was brought before Judge Marshall a year ago on complaint of several neighbors her arrest caused much discussion as to whether the ducking post should be used to punish her.

Judge Marshall, however, ruled that the sentencing of a "common scold" to the ducking was no longer legal.

After remanding Mrs. Rowan, Judge Marshall suspended sentence and placed her on probation for one year.

But last Friday she was brought again before Judge Marshall on complaint of the same neighbors.

BOY, 19, TO WED TEACHER, 34 YEARS OLD

Providence, July 15.—When he was among the recipients of education in the Greenleaf school at Bradford, Mass., Harry S. Plante was known among the school students as "teacher's pet."

But now he is married to a wife as young as the book of his studies.

Here's a romance for his younger generation. He is now 19 years old and his fiancée is 34.

The teacher is three years older than his bride. Friends of the couple are anxious that the love affair become a reality.

They will spend their honeymoon during the last two weeks of August. The bride and groom will be married at the home of the bride's parents.

They were married Saturday night at the First Church of Christ, Bradford, by Rev. Henry A. Nason of Otis, a former pastor of the church, and a friend of both families. They were introduced.

The bride was dressed in white crepe de chine and wore a string of pearls, a gift from the bridegroom. Only her immediate family and friends attended the wedding.

They passed the week-end at the family home, North Brook, Mass., and will then move to Springfield and will live at No. 41 Washington road.

A summer-time beverage that is more than merely cold

WHEN the day is hot and sultry and you're feeling kind of tired and weary from the heat, there's nothing quite so welcome as a sparkling, bubbling glass of "Canada Dry."

It is cold, of course—as cold as winter's ice can make it. Yet this famous old ginger ale is ever so much more than merely cold. It is refreshing! It is invigorating! It is stimulating! It is actually good for the stomach.

The minute you break the golden seal of the beautiful bottle and pour a bit of "Canada Dry" slowly down the side of the thin-edged glass, as a connoisseur would pour a glass of fine old wine, you will know that here, at last, is real ginger ale.

Dry—like an old wine

Hold it to the light. See how clear it is! How it gleams and sparkles! The abounding life and vitality of it! The pale, champagne-like color!

And then—taste it! Here is a revelation in ginger ale quality—a delicate, alluring "dry" flavor that intrigues your taste—a flavor unlike that of any other ginger ale you have ever tasted!

The reason is simply that "Canada Dry" is a real ginger ale and is made from real Jamaica ginger.

This is an important point to remember. The dark, brownish color of the ordinary ginger ale is no indication of the quality. That strong, burning, biting taste of the ordinary ginger ale is due largely to the excessive use of capsicum, or red pepper, which is often substituted for the genuine Jamaica ginger.

A real ginger ale

Because it is real ginger ale, and is made from real Jamaica ginger and other absolutely pure ingredients, "Canada Dry" blends delightfully with other beverages—it will not bite the tongue or burn the lips—it has none of that flat, syrupy flavor—it leaves no "brassy" after-taste or recurring "back kick," as some people call it—it is friendly to the stomach!

"Canada Dry" has been served for years in the leading hospitals of Canada, and is now being served in leading hospitals in this country because of its purity and quality. It is one of the very, very few ginger ales that physicians recommend with absolute confidence.

Truly it has been said that until you try "Canada Dry" you have no idea of how good ginger ale ought to be.

It is so different from the ordinary ginger ale that it might almost be called by another name.

HEARNS OPEN ANOTHER SHOW

BOSTON'S greatest heavyweight show will be staged at Braves Field tonight under the direction of the Suffolk A. A.

Jack Sharkey of Roxbury, considered as the most dangerous contender Jack Dempsey has, will clash with Homer Smith, a Kala man, who is now in the final round bout.

He transferred his traps to the Revere earlier in the season and has been one of the favorites.

The older Walker started as a sprinter, but soon changed over to a pace follower. His first big race was winning the world's championship at the Crystal Palace in London in 1902, 1903 and 1904.

The son is much opposed to this style of riding, caring more for the sprint than the pace.

CATES, the Indian, is a young horse. He has been mentioned in the most of the professional books and has won most of them. He is a perfect model of a horse.

Young Walthour May Outdo Fam'us Father

By FRED C. LANE

Old Father, the son, is a question in the footstep of his father, and it frequently happens that some sons of famous fathers inherit none of the old pack that made their fathers famous.

Young Walthour took to the horse business like a duck to water. He started riding at the age of seven, only to find himself an amateur champion the year following.

He transferred his traps to the Revere earlier in the season and has been one of the favorites.

The older Walker started as a sprinter, but soon changed over to a pace follower. His first big race was winning the world's championship at the Crystal Palace in London in 1902, 1903 and 1904.
